Holocaust Survivor Series

BRTC's 12th annual Holocaust Series, in partnership with the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, featured Hungarian Holocaust survivor Péter Görög.

Péter was born on March 10, 1941, in Budapest, Hungary. After his father died in a forced labor camp, Péter and his mother were forced from their home and eventually ended up in the Budapest ghetto. Péter grew up in communist Hungary and finally defected to the United States in 1980. He was a computer engineer and worked on several NASA programs including the Hubble space telescope. Péter retired in 2014 at the age of 73 and volunteers at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum where he is able to share his family's story with visitors. Péter told his story to almost 1,400 visitors.

I've attended these presentations for three years; they're one of the best things BRTC does.

Thank you to our donors for making this event possible: SEAS Project of the BRTC Foundation; Mike and Barbara Dunn; First National Bank of Walnut Ridge, Hoxie, Pocahontas, and Bono; Brett and Karen Liebhaber; and Integrity First Bank.

iBERIABANK/BRTC Foundation Golf Tournament a Success!

The 23rd annual iBERIABANK/BRTC Foundation Golf Tournament was held September 30 at the Rolling Hills Country Club in Pocahontas. It raised over $41,000 for student scholarships and is the largest fundraiser for BRTC scholarships.

More than 80 individuals and organizations donated money, goods, and services. New this year was the Harps Food Pavilion sponsored by Harps Foods. Without these sponsors, the event would not have been possible. More importantly, many students will receive scholarships essential to their education.

Further, the help of volunteers was invaluable including the Foundation Board, RHCC staff and board, faculty and staff, and IBERIABANK, Baltz Chevy-Olds, and Integrity 1st Bank.

"It's always rewarding to see large crowds supporting this event," said Kelly Rose, Foundation Chair and Vice President, Commercial Relationship Manager for Regional Banking of iBERIABANK. "From sponsors to volunteers to participants, support for the event was remarkable. Thanks to all for making the event successful."

SNAPSHOTS

Foundation Board Member Stephanie Sutton

January marks Stephanie Sutton's 21st year on the BRTC Foundation board.

She was interested in becoming a Foundation board member because of the college's positive impact on the community. It's her way of paying forward the community's blessings she and her family have received.

Completing projects such as the golf tournament and gala are very rewarding for Sutton: "I like the sense of accomplishment which comes from helping raise funds for students who need them." However, to her the most rewarding Foundation event is the annual Donors &

Scholars Luncheon: "Hearing students speak to the donors and their heartfelt thank yous make all the time and effort we put into the Foundation worth doing."

Sutton has been actively involved with the Foundation for many years "and during that time," she says, "we have experienced a considerable amount of change and growth."

She considers reaching or exceeding fundraising goals year after year a great achievement: "As a Board we try to develop new and creative ways to fund scholarships and other things for the college. I'm also proud of the fact that we have kept events like the golf tournament and gala fresh for more than 20 years."

I like that we have gem in BRTC right here in Pocahontas, Arkansas.

Stephanie is married to Keith and they have two sons in college, Bradley at ASU and Parker at University of Arkansas.

Visit the BRTC website for donation times and locations. The iPad drawing will be November 16. Thank you, Jana, for your support!

Serendipity Enjoys Dinner with Holocaust Survivor Péter Görög

During his visit, Péter Görög gave a special lecture to members of Serendipity, the Board of Trustees, and the Foundation. Péter described his life in communist Hungary and how, though he wanted to be a lawyer, he chose computer engineering. Ultimately, this career choice is what made him successful when he defected to the U.S. in 1980 and later allowed him to write software for NASA's Hubble telescope. Serendipity meets for lunch monthly and discusses literature.

MEET BRTC STUDENT RODERICK BOOKER

Rodrick Booker, Eddie Mae Herron Center Scholarship awardee, is the perfect example of a hard-working BRTC student.

Not only does he drive from Jonesboro to Pocahontas every day, he works at Dominos in Jonesboro to pay for his classes.

Rodrick's major is industrial maintenance and he hopes to own his own electrical business. He decided on BRTC because his dad is a BRTC business alum.

Rodrick is grateful for the extra support: "It means a lot that someone else cares to help me get through college when they didn't have to. With the driving I do, it's nice to have the extra gas money."

BAT Mobile Grant Renewed

For the 10th year, the Arkansas State Police's Highway Safety department has renewed the grant which supports BRTC Law Enforcement Academy's Breath Alcohol Testing (BAT) Mobile. It is the only completely self-contained vehicle used for conducting sobriety checkpoints in Arkansas.

Director Ashley Boles travels the state working with law enforcement agencies throughout Arkansas. He also gives tours and demonstrations to community organizations and schools. When you see Ashley, ask him what kindergartners expect when you say "BAT Mobile."

BRTC Adult Ed Students Earn $8,000+

Forty-five Adult Ed students joined 40,000 students nationwide to participate in an assessment-based field study. Students took from 1 to 3 tests in reading, math, and language. For participating, students earned from $50-$260, depending on the level and number of tests taken. Altogether, they took 111 tests and collectively earned $8,465. The Adult Education Fund in the BRTC Foundation was awarded $1,865 for their participation.

Adult Ed instructor Cindy Robinett said, "We've never been involved in anything like this before and it was a great experience for our students."

BRTC Wins $1.18 Million TRIO Grant

BRTC has been awarded its first TRIO Educational Opportunity Center (EOC) grant from the U.S. Department of Education. It will serve students in Clay, Greene, Lawrence, and Randolph counties and assist veterans, military-connected families, and ex-offenders.

"We are excited to make education more available to residents of our service area," stated Martha Nelson, VP of Student Affairs. "The EOC will help our adults with education that can change their lives and those of their families."

At Black River Technical College, we are proud of the accomplishments of our students, faculty, and staff. We are also very thankful for the incredible support of our communities.

The students in this newsletter are excellent examples of the typical BRTC student: hard-working, dedicated to his/her family and future. While we take every opportunity to showcase the talents of our students, we can't tell you enough how proud we are of them.

As Stephanie Sutton said in her feature, BRTC is a gem. We strive to provide the resources and education our students need to be successful. We celebrate our students and their many successes.

Not only does the college work hard to help our students, you, the community and our donors, are integral in their success. The numerous scholarships listed in this newsletter are testimony to your generosity and support.

We couldn't do it without you.

Thank you to our students for their hard work, our faculty and staff for their dedication, and you, our community and supporters, for your help every step of our journey together.
